Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 08-11-10 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The examiner has considered applicants' concerns about the controller not switching at a predetermined time for disable/enable the phase difference...however, as noted in col. col 4, lines 30-45, :

"A controller 316 generates a digital open loop frequency control signal. The output of DAC 312 is connected to terminal 314, having DC tuning voltage potential thereon. The DAC 312, under the control of the digital open loop frequency control signal at input 311, produces a variable DC reference potential at terminal 314. The tuning voltage at terminal 314 is the tuning voltage for the expected frequency to which the PLL will lock."

The examiner is relying on this for reading broadly the switching(generating) of an enable(close loop) or disable(open loop) control via the controller.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Black et al(US 6,157,271 of record).

Art Unit: 2817

The reference by Black et al discloses a PLL, see figure 3, with VCO(114), loop filter(112), controller (316), phase comparator(102), a resistor(208) is shown in figure 3. A predetermined boost/supply signal is used to allow rapid stabilization of the oscillator as the PLL is disabled(open). A frequency divider (118) is shown. When the applied potential is set to the loop the phase detector and inherent pump current is not applied and thus is at high impedance (digital open loop).

Please see col. 4, lines 30-45 : "A controller 316 generates a digital open loop frequency control signal. The output of DAC 312 is connected to terminal 314, having DC tuning voltage potential thereon. The DAC 312, under the control of the digital open loop frequency control signal at input 311, produces a variable DC reference potential at terminal 314. The tuning voltage at terminal 314 is the tuning voltage for the expected frequency to which the PLL will lock."

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
